

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

You are welcome to walk across the wide open spaces at Magog Down and enjoy the diverse beauty it provides. Its close proximity to Cambridge affords wonderful views over the countryside to the historic city beyond. The chalk grassland is rich in wildflowers which in turn support a range of insects, birds and mammals. Additionally, a Scheduled Ancient Monument occupies the site and its separate features date back to both the Bronze and Neolithic ages. Measures are in place to protect these features as well as others across the site, making it an intriguing place to visit.
