

CONSERVATION WALKS

This footpath links with the PROW creating a circular walk from Constantine village. It takes you through small grassland fields where ponds have been created, to benefit all wildlife, and through now redundant quarry workings. From the footpath, there are views to the west towards small enclosed farmland fields and disused mine workings that were once a major feature of the area, showing how both farming and mining existed together. Please keep dogs under control and remove dog faeces.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Country Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends in September 2010.
